

Pilgrim continues

27-year peace journey

John Cross photo

Peaceful

Peace Pilgrim shows some of her effervescence as she talks about her philosophy on individual and world peace. In pockets that trim the bottom of her identifying smock, she carries her only possessions: a comb, a folding toothbrush, a pen and unanswered mail. On the back of her smock reads the message "25,000 miles on foot for peace," which she surpassed more than 25 years ago.